AMERICAS DISCUSS PEACE

Program Is Outlined for Restoring Mexico's Tranquillity

Americans Are Slain in Texas Village by Outlaws

BULLETIN.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 6.—Arrivals from Chihuahua City today declared that Sebastian Vargas Jr., state treasurer of Chihuahua, was executed Wednesday on orders from General Villa.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Major-General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Robert E. Michie, a member of the general staff, will leave Washington at 6 p. m. today for El Paso, Tex., to confer with General Francisco Villa and other revolutionary leaders there regarding the Mexican situation.

General Scott's departure for the border is not a part of the plan proposed some time ago for the chief of staff to go to Mexico himself to see what he could do to influence the revolutionary leaders to come to terms. The plan is said to have been abandoned with the inception of the Pan-American concert.

It was reported that General Scott would go as a member of a commission, but there was no verification of that. General Scott would not discuss his mission.

BROWNVILLE, Texas, Aug. 6.—Mexican outlaws today raided the Texas village of Sebastian, 37 miles north of here, killing a man and a woman. United States cavalrymen, from Harlingen, 12 miles distant, have gone to Sebastian.

LATIN-AMERICAN DIPLOMATS CONFER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The six Latin-American diplomats working with the American government to bring peace to Mexico had a series of conferences among themselves today before they resumed their conference at the State Department. They covered their procedure with the same secrecy as was shown yesterday's meeting. The diplomats met at the Argentine embassy and later proceeded to Secretary Lansing's office.

Today's meeting was expected to develop a line of action for the Latin-American diplomats to submit to their home governments, and if they agree all the nations of North and South America will be asked for their approval.

DISPOSE OF OBSTACLE.
General Carranza's refusal to meet the other factions in a peace conference was the first obstacle to be disposed of. It was believed the diplomats considered that on the question of Carranza's conference was to send General Carranza a last invitation, backed by the moral force and authority of all Pan-America, to join his adversaries in an effort to have Mexicans settle Mexican affairs themselves. Today's meeting was expected to go far towards developing the alternative.

Secretary Lansing conferred with Brigadier-General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, and Assistant Secretary Breckinridge. Their meeting revived a report that General Scott might be chosen to persuade General Carranza of the necessity of yielding.

The Latin-American diplomats are understood to favor for President of Mexico some man who will represent the great majority of Mexico's inhabitants who are not fighting under any military leader. They consider that the fighting forces represent such a small percentage of the population that all military chiefs should yield to the masses, who deplore the war and have been innocent victims of its hardships.

PRICES LOWERED.
Secretary Lansing and there might be some public announcement tonight dependent upon developments.

A long telegram from Jesus Acuna, minister of foreign affairs in the Carranza cabinet, was forwarded to Secretary Lansing today by Carranza's Washington agents. It said $500 additional troops were encamped in strategic points about Mexico City.

Yesterday the telegram said, "General Carranza advanced the merchants a half million dollars to pay salaries and for other disbursements. All stores are now reopened and there is a general lowering of prices."

Big German Enveloping Movement on Vistula Is Pressed

Mitau Teutons Ready With Welcome for Invaders

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Russian war office has set aside $23,000,000 to help pay the cost of the removal of Warsaw mills and factories to the interior of the empire, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times.

"The Warsaw retreat is less the direct outcome of engagements on the Blonie line and in the Nowogorod region than the result of the strategic situation as a whole. In the region of Ostrolenka and the mouth of the Skaw the enemy threatened to cut our rear communication and deprive us of the opportunity of regrouping, while by their offensive in the Lomza district, which is beginning to overshadow even the Vistula front in strategic importance, the Germans are striving to effect a deep envelopment of our forces on the Vistula river. Should this offensive be further developed, it possibly will be directed against Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk from the north. It is quite likely Field Marshal von Mackensen will advance his troops from the Chelm district to co-operate in this attempt. Another factor was the auxiliary operation in both banks of the Vistza against Lukow, intended to cut the Ivangorod-Lukow line."

RIGA'S FATE SEALED.
"Today's news warrants the conclusion that the fate of Riga is sealed. The country on this side of the Dvina, where fighting is proceeding at present, does not afford the Russians a line capable of stemming the enemy's advance, but is suitable merely for rear guard actions. The river Dvina is intrinsically a more formidable obstacle, but as Riga is situated on both sides of the river, it does not afford opportunities for effective defense."

"Two corps of General von Buelow's army already have reached the Dvina. The evacuation of Riga is in full swing. The streets are packed with dense crowds and the stations are besieged with those anxious to leave."

The evacuation of Mitau was effected by the postoffice employees and the police last Saturday. German residents were greatly delighted at the arrival of their countrymen. They had made no secret of their sympathies."

Five Hundred Men Pursue Negro Fiend

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6.—A section seven miles square in the southwest corner of Clay county, on the Missouri river, north from here, is surrounded by 500 armed men today in the search for a negro who yesterday attacked Mrs. Henry Stafford, wife of a young farmer near Liberty, Mo. The negroes have followed the negro's trail from the Stafford home into the wooded hills of the southwest corner of the county and the leaders believe he has no opportunity to escape.

All roads leading out of the surrounding territory and all trains passing through are being searched. Mrs. Stafford was said to be in a dangerous condition today.

War in Armenia Leaves 20,000 in Poverty

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Replying to a request for information as to the text of the damage done as the result of the war in Armenia, the Governor of Van telegraphed:

"Resides Van, the provinces of Chahak, Moksapark, Hammetark and Khazar are saved. The rest are in ruins and devastated. Twenty thousand persons are homeless and famine and infectious diseases are widespread."

Blazing Villages Light Teuton Way

Russian Torch Tempers Speed of Advancing Foe

PETROGRAD, via London, Aug. 6, 2:40 p. m.—A letter from Warsaw, dated August 2, received here today, says the towns of Jirardoff, Grotz and Blonie all were in flames when the Germans reached them.

The invaders are said to have been forced to fight five so persistently in the advance to the Vistula river that the Teutonic armies were preceded by detachments of military firemen.

POLAND TO BE JOINED TO GALICIA

LONDON, Aug. 6, 10:10 p. m.—With the great Russian fortresses of Warsaw and Ivangorod captured and the fall of Riga, the capital of the Baltic provinces, imminent, the Austro-German onslaught has reached its height in the east and the next step will be the German emperor's triumphal entry into the Polish capital. That event is likely soon to be followed by the pronouncement of a united and semi-autonomous Poland, embracing not only the territory wrested from the Russians, but the Austrian crown land of Galicia.

Meantime the Russian armies are fighting their way backward toward Russia proper, inflicting blows on the invaders wherever possible, trying to fend them off the railways running north and south in order that the ends of the German nippers may not meet and in closing bring disaster to Russian arms. The position of the army of Grand Duke Nicholas now is a matter of solitude, as the occupation of Warsaw is believed to be a prelude to a greater purpose, that of enveloping the retreating forces.

The Petrograd reports show the Grand Duke has retired to the right bank of the Vistula, both at Warsaw and Ivangorod, destroying the bridges at both points and contesting the German advance across the river.

RETREAT UPON RUSSIA.
Back of the retreating Russians is the vast morass of Central Poland, with a few railways and primitive roads, making virtually impossible a quick movement of guns and supplies; while back of Warsaw the only fortress available as a rallying point for the Russians is Brest-Litovsk. Thus the Russians are menaced by General von Buelow's column bending southward and by Field Marshal von Mackensen's southern army bending northward.

The fall of Ivangorod proper, forecast in the Russian retreat from the west of the city, is officially reported today in bulletins both from Berlin and Vienna.

The occupation of Warsaw now is centering attention on a series of important events that are being arranged. First will be the selection of a German governor. Reports indicate the appointee will be a German prince, possibly a son of the German emperor or an Austrian archduke, who will be vested with authority akin to that which Napoleon gave to his brothers and to his marshals.

Berlin reports that a council to be held Sunday will formulate a proclamation declaring Poland to be a semi-autonomous state under joint Polish and Austro-Hungarian rule. This conforms with a recent decision of a Polish congress held at Piotrkow, Russian Poland, which proposed a joint Polish and Austro-Hungarian rule with a separate Polish army and the fullest Polish autonomy consistent with the strategic interests of Austro-Hungary.

HELPS WIN POLES.
The German offer of autonomy is regarded as a bid for the support of the population of Poland as against a similar declaration of Emperor Nicholas promising eventual Polish autonomy under Russian suzerainty.

RUSS DEFENSE LINE AGAIN BROKEN

Second Corner of Quadrangle Seized by Germans

Bridges Burned Behind Them by Fleeing Armies

AUSTRIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 6, via London, 8:40 p. m.—The position of the retreating Russians between the Vistula and the Bug rivers has grown more precarious as a result of heavy rains of the last few days. The marshes in their rear hold the rising water, confining the movements of troops exclusively to a few roads. The retreat, therefore, is encountering increased difficulties.

VIENNA, Aug. 6, via London.—The occupation of Ivangorod yesterday by Austro-German forces is announced in an official telegram from the front.

The evacuation of Ivangorod apparently was accomplished last night by Petrograd in an official statement which said: "In the Ivangorod district the Russians have crossed to the right bank of the Vistula, blowing up the bridges behind them."

A statement issued later in the night explained that the Ivangorod forts were not properly constructed for modern warfare. This statement was made in reply to the Austrian claim that a great victory was achieved in the Ivangorod capture.

It further states that all the provisions in the Ivangorod forts were removed after which the Russian rear guard blew up the concrete bases supporting the brick casements of the forts, destroyed the bridges and crossed the river.

Ivangorod is located at the confluence of the Vistula and the Vepz rivers. It is situated on the railroad running between Lukow and Brest-Litovsk, and also on a line connecting with Warsaw.

NOVOGEORGIEVSK IS HELD

PETROGRAD, Aug. 6, via London, 3:05 p. m.—Novogeorgievsk, 19 miles northwest of Warsaw, still remains in Russian hands today, notwithstanding the evacuation of the Polish capital, according to information received by the Russian war office.

The fortress has been prepared for a siege and already is investing. It constitutes the only fortified position on the Vistula river in possession of the Russians.

The immediate cause of the evacuation of Warsaw, according to the war office, was "the advance of the enemy in great force on the roads toward Ostrov from Ostrolenka and Rozan, and the presence of large forces of the enemy who had broken across the Vistula river between Ivangorod and Warsaw at Matziewitz."

A war office official report, reviewing the situation, said: "Our armies in the forward theater of war are gradually moving back to the positions assigned to them, thus giving the enemy the important advantage of a shortened front and also of bringing them nearer to the fortified line of Kovno, Grodno and Brest-Litovsk."

The retreat was carried out, not under immediate pressure of the enemy, but in consequence of a decision taken, notwithstanding some instances in which our armies were having partial successes, often being able to force the enemy backwards. With the occupation of new roads toward Ostrov from Ostrolenka and Rozan, and the presence of large forces of the enemy who had broken across the Vistula river between Ivangorod and Warsaw at Matziewitz."

BALKANS TO FORM NEW LEAGUE?

Entente Allies Offer Serbia Inducements to Join Union

Aid of Rumania, Bulgaria and Greece Sought

NISH, Serbia, Aug. 6, via London, 2 p. m.—Another step in the effort is being made to bring about a Balkan agreement so that Bulgaria, Rumania and Greece may be mustered on the side of the entente powers was taken here today by the ministers of Russia, Great Britain, France and Italy, who made collective representations to Nikola Pachitch, Serbian premier.

An official communication issued in this connection today says the ministers' representations were of the friendliest character and were made "in the hope of avoiding friction between the Balkan states and in establishing an entente between them, thus bringing nearer the final success of the allies in the war."

The collective representations made today by the ministers at Nish of the quadruple entente is coincident with the pressure brought to bear on the Greek premier, Mr. Gounaris, on Wednesday of this week, when the British, French, Russian and Italian ministers at Athens made united representations to the Greek government regarding the political situation in the Balkans inasmuch as it affected that country.

ITALIAN DIRIGIBLE CAPTURED

ROME, via Paris, Aug. 6.—An official statement issued by the Italian government today says:

"Last night one of our dirigible balloons flew over the Albanian frontier. It was shot down by the Albanians and the crew were taken prisoner. The dirigible was captured and the crew were taken to the Albanian capital."

"For reasons which it has been impossible to establish the dirigible fell into the sea and its crew, consisting of three officers and three men, were made prisoners."

Over Production of Citrus Fruits Likely

BERKELEY, Aug. 6.—Cultivation of tropical fruits, such as dates and the avocado, were suggested today by H. J. Webber as a remedy for threatened over-production of citrus fruits in California. The University of California's citrus experiment station at Riverside, Cal., and made this statement before the agriculture section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Over-production of citrus fruits is threatened," Mr. Webber said. "For 25 years, during the growth of the citrus industry, this spectre of over-production has loomed up before the growers to check somewhat their California enthusiasm."

"I expect to see the avocado as common an article of food as the potato in the homes of Southern California."

Mr. Webber advocated cultivation not only of dates and avocado, but of guava, loquat, jujube, roseapple, and sugar apple.

"In the midst of success," he continued, "the wise man prepares for the future. We have grown rapidly. Broadly speaking, one-third of our orange groves are just coming into bearing and one-half of our lemon groves are very young."

SAFETY OF THE CITRUS INDUSTRY.
The application for the citation was filed with Acting Presiding Judge Crothers this morning, and the jurist laid it over until this afternoon. In the meantime the other judges, fearing they might be called on to hear the case, hurried from the courts and took refuge in the Exposition or out of town.

Child Saves Them by Cry, but Dies

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Awakening to find the house in flames, Katherine Jordan, 4 years old, by her cries, early today warned her parents and brother in another room in time for them to escape, but was herself burned to death.

When the child's parents heard her shout of alarm they dashed into the street in their night clothes, believing she was safe. Failing to find her on the sidewalk, her father, Alex Jordan, ran back into the rooms, but was unable to reach the child stretched upon the floor. Jordan was seriously burned.

SAVED FROM DESERT DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—James S. Roche, an attorney, and James G. Clarke, a real estate dealer, reached Los Angeles today with the story of how they survived two days of desert thirst which killed their companion, John H. Welsh, another lawyer, in the blistering heat of the sand wastes at the head of Imperial Valley. Walsh died Wednesday afternoon just before rescue, piloted by Clarke, reached their automobile, the disabling of which by evaporation of the water in the radiator caused the tragedy. Walsh's body will be brought home to his widow and two children later.

Roche said he had been kept alive by drinking lubricating oil after the thirst suffered by him and Welsh had become intolerable. Their condition at that time was such that their saliva had become lumps of pulp and their tongues grown so swollen they could not articulate.

Welsh, Clarke and Roche started from here last Sunday in an automobile to visit El Centro. They spent Sunday night at Mecca and started on the last leg of the journey, through the desert Monday morning. The heat was terrific. The motor car stopped and the men discovered that the water in the radiator had evaporated and that their canteens were empty.

Roche and Welsh followed a mirage which they believed to be the Salton sea. They were gone for a day, wandering in the desert, seeking water for Mineral Springs in search of water and aid. Wednesday night the rescuers managed to find Roche and Welsh, the latter dead and Roche unconscious.

Perkins Sounds Rally Cry for Progressives

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Sounding a rallying cry for Progressives to stand by their party, George W. Perkins told twenty-five up-state leaders today that the Progressive organization is the only one that stands for preparedness for peace as well as preparedness for war. And at this time, he declared, they are equally important to the cause.

"Because of the utter lack of preparedness to meet these great modern economic conditions in industry we are as unprepared for peace as we are for war," he declared. "Every thoughtful man knows that if the war were to stop tomorrow widespread industrial depression immediately would gather in this country."

As to national candidates, Mr. Perkins said that he had no idea what the future would bring forth. He declined to say whether he believed Colonel Roosevelt again would be a candidate or if he would support Governor Hiram Johnson of California for the Presidency.

British Steamship Midland Queen Sunk

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 6, 4:32 p. m.—The British steamship Midland Queen, which sailed from Sydney July 31 for Glasgow, was sunk on Tuesday last.

The crew of twenty-two and the chief officer's wife and child were rescued after being seventy-two hours in open boats.

In the meantime the judges are all doing the best they can to arrive at a decision on whether or not the action of Judge Trout in rejecting the case in Judge Saville's court was legal was also started this afternoon.

YOUTH SHOT AS FIRE RAGES

Conspiracy of Silence Surrounds Wounding of Boy

Brought Back in Agony From Cazadero Hillside

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Shot under strange circumstances in the woods near Cazadero at the time the forest fires were sweeping down the hill slopes, Milton Hohn, a young lad of this city, has been brought to St. Mary's hospital. The greatest possible secrecy has been maintained as to the circumstances of the shooting and it was not until noon today that the local police began an investigation.

Doctor William C. Hopper of 4107 Eighteenth street, and who lives in Ashbury Terrace, took young Hohn to the hospital. He has a bullet hole through the shoulder.

It is understood that the young man was out hunting when the shot was fired, but this information has not yet been verified. Whether Hohn accidentally shot himself or was shot by a companion has not been ascertained. Dr. Hopper, when found at his home this morning, declined absolutely to make any statement.

"I am exactly in the position of an attorney with reference to his client," said Dr. Hopper. "I can say nothing whatever about the case."

"Has there been a crime committed in connection with this shooting?" he was asked.

"No, there has been no crime committed."

"Then the victim was accidentally shot; is that true?"

"I cannot say anything further. I must reserve my opinion until the case is cleared up."

Inquiry at St. Mary's hospital proved useless, as the officials there would not even give out the diagnosis of the case. It is known that the young man was shot at the time the forest fires were sweeping down the hill slopes, but further than that no information has been obtained. When the detective department was notified today an upper office man was sent out. He had difficulty in locating Dr. Hopper, who was making his round of calls.

Lynch Negro Who Owns to Attacks

SHAWNEE, Okla., Aug. 6.—Ed Berry, negro, charged with two cases of criminal assault and suspected in connection with ten others that have occurred here in the last three years, was taken from a deputy sheriff early today and hanged to a telephone pole at the scene of one of his alleged crimes.

Berry was brought here from the penitentiary at McAlester for trial. When the train arrived and the deputy sheriff and his posse arrived, they were ordered by guns in the hands of a dozen masked men who appeared suddenly from the darkness. After an attempt at a play the deputy was disarmed.

The negro was surrounded by a mob of masked men who appeared and the negro was quickly conveyed to the Beard street bridge.

When the rope was adjusted around Berry's neck he was questioned about the crimes and asked if he was guilty. In each instance he nodded his head affirmatively. In every case the negro's victim was a white woman.

Following the confession the negro was strung up in the presence of about seventy-five men, all masked, after which the crowd dispersed.

Find Dynamite Aboard British Liner Arabic

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—It became known today at police headquarters that a stick of dynamite was found aboard the White Star Liner Arabic the day before she sailed from this port for Liverpool on July 28. The explosive, in such a state of deterioration that experts said it would have exploded at the slightest jar, was found by a stewardess between hot and cold water pipes. It was wrapped in newspapers. In notifying the police of the findings of the dynamite officials of the steamship company, it was said, asked that no publicity be given to the fact. A search was said to have been made of the entire steamer. No more dynamite was found, however.

PRESENT ATTACK ON CHANCELLOR

National Liberals Stirred by a Wing Criticizing Bethmann-Hellweg.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 5.—A sharp conflict is in progress in the leading circles of the national liberal party, owing to the action of a wing of the party in conducting a private and public campaign of attack against the chancellor, Herr Bethmann-Hellweg, the imperial chancellor.

The campaign centers around the support of the chancellor on the question of annexation of territory and the final settlement of the war. It is assumed that he is not ready to go to the lengths in this direction which they and their backers consider proper and justified.

Herr Bethmann, the veteran party leader, Herr Hirsch, member from the Rhine district, and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, a functionary in various industrial and business organizations, who was defeated as a candidate at the general Reichstag election, but who later obtained a seat at a by-election in Hanover, are the active leaders in the anti-Bethmann-Hellweg campaign.

Behind them stand many prominent persons who favor most sweeping annexations. The chief of these is Herr Hirsch, who is said to have written an article in the Leipzig Tageblatt, one of the party organs.

This wing, according to the newspaper, held that "the public utterance of the chancellor offered no ground for the assumption that he is pursuing a weak policy, based on illusions, and is not serving the interests of the empire."

It declares the attacks on the chancellor merely serve to hamper his prestige abroad and hamper him in exactly that vigorous policy which is demanded from him.

A meeting of the executive committee of the party has been called, at which a resolution expressing complete confidence in the chancellor probably will be passed.

RIGA REJOICES OVER APPROACH OF GERMANS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 6.—Discussing the situation around Riga, the sixth city of the Russian empire, the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"Russian military forces seem merely to be observing the German advance and falling back before it. The Germans now are fifteen miles farther east than yesterday. Their aeroplanes have dropped numerous bombs on Riga and the main body of German troops has succeeded in getting beyond the difficult swampy region which was the city's natural defense. They now are in a good forest country, through which they are being guided by local German—Riga's population is 50 per cent German."

"Refugees give illuminating accounts of the conduct of those Riga Germans. When the Russian population was preparing to leave, Riga assumed the appearance of a city celebrating at a holiday, Germans swarming the streets and every sign of public rejoicing being apparent."

TENSION BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY MORE ACUTE

By Associated Press.
ROME, via Paris, Aug. 5.—The tension between Italy and Turkey is declared here to be becoming daily more acute. Italy is said to have asked for categorical explanations concerning Turkey's alleged refusal to withdraw her troops from the Crenetia district in Tripoli and Turkey is pursuing what is described as her usual policy of procrastination.

In official circles here the feeling is held that hostilities on the part of Italy may commence at any moment, as Italy's last note to Turkey was almost of the same character as an ultimatum. Two hundred and fifty thousand men in the provinces of Bari, Foggia and Lecce are said to be prepared to sail from Brindisi on short notice.

Official War Statements

AUSTRIAN RUSSIAN

By Associated Press.
VIENNA, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 5.—The war office this evening made public the following official communication:

"Russian troops. The long series of successes of the German allies show the progress of the Donau in Galicia and May battle on the northern Poland and the Baltic coasts have now been crowned by the occupation of Warsaw."

"Today the German troops of the army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria marched into the capital of Russian Poland."

"Between the Vistula and the Bug, both of the allies are advancing. The Austro-Hungarian cavalry has reached Ureboin on the right bank of the Bug to the west of Vladimir-Wolynsk, and the German cavalry, Vladimir-Wolynsk. Otherwise the situation is unchanged."

"Italian theater. On the Tyrol front, the Italian battle is in the region of the Italian 2nd Infantry regiment commenced yesterday morning on Nemesalpe, northeast of Montecroce. It was bloodily repulsed."

"The enemy retreated to the woods south of the border brook. In order to release these Italian forces other troops attempted an afternoon surprise attack on the Italian position north of Montecroce but it was repulsed after a short battle with a loss of about a hundred men killed. The commander of the battalion and several other officers fell into our hands. Our losses were not important."

"In the region of Gorizia, the Italians have maintained since yesterday afternoon a heavy artillery fire on our positions on the Plateau of Richarbo. When hostile infantry from Sagrado and south of Sdraussina attempted an attack they were shot down by our artillery."

"On the front there is nothing of importance to report."

ITALIAN

By Associated Press.
ROME, Aug. 5, via Paris, Aug. 5.—The following official statement from the general headquarters of the Italian army was issued this evening:

"In the valley of Cordeville we continue our offensive with the object of completing the occupation of Luna Pass, of which we conquered the most advanced trenches in the direction of Salesi, Pieve di Lavinalonga and Agni in the fighting from the 13th to the 27th of July."

"Under a concentrated fire of the enemy our infantry, effectively supported by artillery, succeeded in storming the position of the Plateau of Richarbo. The strong echelon, defending the upper part of Cordeville, the enemy, seeking to stop our progress on the center and left wing delivered yesterday afternoon a heavy attack on the Italian position of the Capucio Ford. Our troops bore the shock successfully, and then taking the offensive, vigorously stormed a considerable length of the entrenchments which the enemy had constructed, dominating the eastern border of the Capucio Ford and the approach to Sammartino del Carso."

"In the evening the enemy made a long and determined attempt to advance without, however, accomplishing anything."

UNUSUAL RUSE HELPED GERMAN OVER VISTULA

By Associated Press.
AUSTRIAN HEADQUARTERS, via London, Aug. 5.—It was by an unusual ruse that the Germans and Austrians succeeded in crossing the Vistula to the northwest of Ivangorod. They maneuvered with the object of leading the Russians to believe that they intended to force a passage near Novo Alexandria, whereas they planned to cross at Domaszew, where the river is divided by a number of branches.

The Russians, puzzled by the complicated maneuvers of the Austro-Germans, sent aviators to make observations. They reported seeing a large number of wagons loaded with straw moving toward the front. The wagons, however, contained pontoons and other material topped with straw. The advance guard constructed the bridges before their real purpose was discovered. Then the Russians brought forward artillery and opened a terrific fire, but the bridge building was proceeding in four places, and the Germans succeeded within 25 hours in connecting the islands by bridges and reaching the east bank.

The Germans immediately crossed in force and captured Domaszew and the adjacent forests.

WARSAW REFUGEES BESIEGE MOSCOW

Hundreds at American Consulate Without Money or Means of Sustenance.

By Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 5.—An official communication this evening made public the following official statement:

"In view of conditions and the general situation our troops west of Warsaw have received orders to fall back on the right bank of the Vistula."

"According to reports received the order was carried out and the troops were covering Warsaw retired to our right bank (Thursday) morning, a hot day being assigned to them."

"They blew up behind them all the bridges over the Vistula."

"In the direction of Riga, the enemy, after crossing the River Nissa, fell back in great haste toward the River Emau, abandoning in the trenches a large quantity of cartridges and munitions."

"In the district east of Riga, the fighting continues and the Germans succeeded in advancing a little."

"The German occupation first seemed imminent the government issued an order that third-class tickets to any point in the interior of Russia should be given free to all citizens desiring to depart. The only condition attached by the authorities was that residents so leaving would not be allowed to return without a special permit."

"The abandonment of the city was so carefully planned and so systematically executed that an onlooker received the impression that the evacuation was a prearranged event. Sufficient extra trains had been provided so that traveling conditions on the whole differed little from normal."

"An unusual feature of the present evacuation was the fact that provision tickets were made unnecessary. The bulk of the refugees traveled on foot or with their wagons along the highways. Most of the refugees were unable to proceed southward and to Kiev, and finding the railway to Vilna monopolized for military purposes, they took the line to the east, temporarily crowding Moscow, Vladimir and Pskov."

"Many of these lost their homes in the outlying portions of Warsaw, the destruction of which became a military necessity. At Laysa, to the west of Warsaw, containing large factories, Polish textile and garment industries, Polish schools and great numbers of Jewish residents blackened and uninhabitable areas."

"Care had been taken that no suburban factories should fall into the hands of the Germans and be converted to their use. Chief among those destroyed was the 31,000,000 sugar factory belonging to a Polish lawyer, Eugene Kurutuk, with more than 2500 tons of sugar."

"The factories in the city itself, although abandoned, had not yet been destroyed when the refugees left."

Famous Bells of Riga Are Moved

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 5.—Ten thousand persons have been leaving Riga, the Baltic capital, daily for a week. Among the objects most carefully removed from the city are the famous bells of the church bells, many of them often too large to remove without erecting special framework. In some cases the bells are sawed to pieces.

FRENCH DISAPPOINTED IN FALL OF WARSAW

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Aug. 5.—While the fall of Warsaw had been discounted here some time ago, a delay in the capture of the city had given rise to the hope that the Polish capital might be saved and the occupation by the Germans is something of a disappointment to the French.

"The military necessities dictating the abandonment of the city are fully recognized, but it is realized that the Germans will proclaim a great victory from which the people of that country will derive considerable encouragement. The Russian army remains intact and the news generally has been received stoically."

"The evacuation of the city was so carefully planned and so systematically executed that an onlooker received the impression that the evacuation was a prearranged event. Sufficient extra trains had been provided so that traveling conditions on the whole differed little from normal."

"An unusual feature of the present evacuation was the fact that provision tickets were made unnecessary. The bulk of the refugees traveled on foot or with their wagons along the highways. Most of the refugees were unable to proceed southward and to Kiev, and finding the railway to Vilna monopolized for military purposes, they took the line to the east, temporarily crowding Moscow, Vladimir and Pskov."

OAKLAND TO DOCK CARGO

Quay Wall Will Be Prepared by Council

That the mayor had told him to stop the work on the quay wall was the first thing that came into the mind of the council when they met last night. The council was called to order by Mayor John L. Davis, who said that he had been told by the council that the work on the quay wall was to be stopped. The council then discussed the matter and decided that the work on the quay wall should be continued.

There has been some doubt as to what statement was made by Mayor Davis to the council. The council then discussed the matter and decided that the work on the quay wall should be continued.

Some portions of California, embracing hundreds of thousands of the most productive acres, are confronted with the problem of controlling floods. It is a problem vital to the material welfare of the regions affected. While these districts are most interested, it is of material concern to the whole state to have an effective flood control system established—Pasadena Star.

Lawrence announced immediately afterwards that the temporary instructions he issued yesterday regarding sending the vessel to San Francisco instead of bringing it to Oakland would be cancelled and the cargo will come to this city. The cargo consists of 1000 tons of goods to go to England and a vessel will have to dock at the Oakland waterfront to take on this portion of the cargo, this being the first trans-Atlantic ship to dock at the Oakland waterfront.

The remainder of the cargo is to be sent east by rail, there being about 300 carloads. The vessel will be docked at the Oakland waterfront for about five days, resulting in a return to the city in $125 in dockage, and $150 in tolls.

Twenty-four men will be employed during this time in handling the cargo, the wages to the stevedores for that time amounting to $750. In addition to this, Oakland will be credited the shipping center with sending out freight to the east from this terminal valued at $25,000.

A spirited attack was made today by Mayor Davis and Commissioner Edwards upon the class of street work being done by Commissioner of Streets Baccus. The matter came up in connection with a communication from the Land Vista Improvement Club, declaring that inferior rock is being used for the improvement of Walsworth avenue.

"That work must be stopped," declared Mayor Davis. "It is absolutely worthless. The rock is inferior and crumbles away at the touch. The street would have to be done over again in the near future."

"The rock of which you are complaining," explained Commissioner Baccus, "is merely used for the base. It is not necessary to have so high a grade of rock for the five inches of base underneath the regular wearing surface. We subject this rock to the rattle test and the specifications demand that in 1500 revolutions of the rattle there shall not be a loss of more than 33 per cent. That is enough to give a sound base. On top of it we put a better class of rock which must stand a test of not losing more than 33 per cent in 500 revolutions. This is the real wearing surface and is of good rock."

"How about Peralta avenue north of Hopkins street?" demanded Commissioner Edwards. "That work ought to be stopped too. The class of rock you are putting down there is very inferior. It might as well be dirt."

"We have got to raise the standard of specifications," returned Mayor Davis. "There should not be a loss of more than fifteen per cent instead of thirty-three per cent in the rattle test. You ought to put down this trap rock of a high quality."

PROTESTS HIGH COST. "You will increase the cost of street work so high that the property owners won't stand it," returned Baccus, "and there will be no street work done in the city of Oakland. You are asking for a price of thirty-three per cent instead of fifteen per cent in the specifications, but if you do you are going to halt all the work. It will raise the cost of the improvement of any work being done."

Baccus stated after the council meeting that the contractor had informed him that the mayor had told him to stop the work on the quay wall.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—With the president's approval, the War Department is planning to co-operate with the committee on national defense, which is now holding its sessions in the Senate chamber, and with the committee on national defense, which is now holding its sessions in the House chamber, in order to unite on a single program of action.

The president told friends today that, while he had made no definite plans for co-operation with the committee on national defense, he would arrange to see them before they adjourned, in order to unite on a single program of action.

When the president sees the chairman of the committee, he expects to have before him the reports now being prepared by Mr. Garrison and Mr. Daniels. The heads of the war and navy departments are also expected to be present.

The president already has written to Chairman Duffell of the house naval affairs committee, inviting him to meet him on Mr. Wilson's return to Washington. Although he did not say whether he had written similar letters to the chairman of the other committees, it was reported that he had done so.

DEFINITE PROGRAM. The president believes the time has come for the United States to decide on a definite program of national defense and is anxious that as little friction as possible develop over the question when it is presented to the two houses of congress. He will not decide in his own mind on the kind of program required until he has thoroughly examined the reports of Mr. Garrison and Mr. Daniels and has received the views of congressional leaders.

Through the chairman of the military and naval affairs committee of the two houses of congress the president expects the members of these committees to give and receive ideas before the appropriation bills, containing army and navy items, to come up for discussion.

The plan of the president is to consider carefully a program of national defense after free consultation with others and then to throw the entire weight of the administration behind the policy agreed on.

EXPOSITION OFFERS DAY OF INTEREST. TRIBUNE BUREAU, Panama-Pacific Exposition, Aug. 6.—Kappa Alpha Pi Day ceremonies, the sessions of the Immigration and Labor Conference, the playground pentathlon, and several other events of special interest, were on today's program at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The Universal Corn Growers are in session at the fair, and also several other organizations. Preparations are complete for the celebration of Richmond Day tomorrow at the fair, when the Contra Costa city and a large crowd to the special program to be rendered.

The conference of the labor experts meeting with Secretary W. B. Wilson in the Immigration and Labor Conference, concluded their sessions today with final discussions of their work. Yesterday saw several discussions of plans for relief of the labor situation. Co-operation was promised by the postoffice department, several county supervisors and others.

R. H. Norton, supervisor of Los Angeles county, submitted the plan of building roads, as the only scheme for the amelioration of the sufferings of the unemployed.

Secretary of Labor W. B. Wilson proved the impossibility of this plan and the sophistry of Norton's "dream."

WALK WITH BADE TO SACRAMENTO

In Search of Work Couple Carry Worldly Possessions in Baby Buggy.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 5.—Joe OHL, 34, and his wife, 30 years old, arrived in Sacramento Tuesday night. They came from California, where they had been working for a number of months. They are now in search of work and are carrying their worldly possessions in a baby buggy.

When OHL and wife got out from Oakland a week ago, Sacramento was their first stop. They had heard that around Sacramento there would be work for both of them. That is all they want—work that will enable OHL to provide a home for his wife and babe.

When OHL and wife got out from Oakland, they had only $1.00 in cash. When they arrived last night OHL still had about $1.00. They have slept in the fields, did their own cooking and walked all the way except for the auto ride from Davis to Sacramento, when a kindly-disposed autoist picked them up and brought them to their destination.

FEARED LOSS OF BABY. "We want work, nothing else," said OHL. "We came to California from Spokane several months ago, because we heard there was lots of work in California. We could not find anything to do. In Oakland a woman threatened to take our baby from us if we tried to walk to Sacramento. We sneaked away."

"We don't want to give up Edward," interrupted Mrs. OHL as she clasped the laughing, tanned little fellow to her breast in close embrace. "He is the only thing of value we have left. We have him a whole lot and he loves us, too. See him laugh."

And Edward, brown as a berry and as busy as any 7-month-old baby one ever saw, accommodated his mother by breaking into a grin which showed the full extent of his toothless mouth. He chuckled and cooed throughout the interview. His parents may be worried about where the next meal is coming from, but Edward is adopting an "I should worry" policy and is growing fat. He weighs 23 pounds.

CAME FROM ILLINOIS. OHL and his wife were raised on farms in Illinois. All he knows is farm work, and from his large, knotted hands he has a fine head of hair. His wife has had experience in canneries and is anxious to get another canning job. She also can cook, although she is not strong enough to do heavy work.

"We will do anything we can get $2.00 a week," said Mrs. OHL. "We won't give him up. Surely there is something for us to do in Sacramento." Mr. and Mrs. OHL and baby were discovered at 11 o'clock by James Duffe, a saloonkeeper. Duffe took them into his house and provided a room and food for them. Mrs. Duffe personally supervised the bathing of the baby. The bath was a distinct success, according to the chuckles and grins of Master Edward who played in the big tub for fifteen minutes.

Duffe has donated quarters to the couple as long as they are out of work.

FIREMEN SEEKING INCREASE. FIREMEN, Aug. 5.—Saying their recommendation on the "high cost of living," members of the board of fire and police commissioners yesterday asked the city trustees to advance the salaries of the city firemen 20 per cent.

Judge Brown ordered Mrs. Spott to appear in court next Friday or else retain her attorney long enough so that the matter of the child's custody can be settled.

MAYOR DAVIE SAYS HE WILL STOP "CLANSMAN"

Mayor John L. Davie announced today that he will stop the production of "The Clansman" now being filmed at the Macdonough theater. He declared that he considered the performance so objectionable that it should not be permitted to continue. The Mayor did not state when he would issue the order, but it is understood that it will go into effect either tonight or tomorrow.

Mayor Davie visited the performance Wednesday evening and said he was greatly shocked by some of the scenes. He did not wish to act hastily, however, and asked several of his friends to go and witness the dramatization of Thomas Dixon's novel and to give him their opinion. They all agreed with him that it should be stopped.

"The mechanical work and the scenic effects are beautiful," said Mayor Davie, "but that should not be allowed to blind me to the bad moral effect of presenting some of the more objectionable scenes."

L. B. Magnuson, who visited the theater to inspect the show, declared that, in his opinion, the performance ought to be stopped. Others have also recommended a similar policy.

The objectionable matters in connection with "The Clansman" were brought to the attention of the mayor by the pastor of the Richard Clark Baptist church of Oakland. The same people protested several months ago when "The Clansman" was produced here before, but former Mayor Frank H. Moffet refused to censor the performance, although he was urged to do so by former Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen. Petersen is in accord with Mayor Davie in his desire to stop the performance.

FIRE PARTLY DESTROYS STORE AND RESIDENCE

Fire partly destroyed a store owned by A. C. Miller, 2841 East Fourteenth street, last night, and after broke out in Miller's rooms in the flat over the store. It is thought the blaze was caused by defective wiring or by spontaneous combustion of some oil left about the place by Miller when he washed out the store with water and kerosene a few days ago. It was at first thought the fire might have been of incendiary origin, as the fumes of coal oil were strong when the firemen entered. The theory was abandoned when the cause was investigated. The second fire was due to paper smoldering behind a chimney after the fire had been put out. The paper had not been removed by the firemen. The damage was minimal.

SUSPECTED CHECK PASSERS.

Le Roy Cushing, a saloonkeeper of 6011 San Pablo avenue, became suspicious during July, when two strangers entered his place of business and attempted to cash a check for $10. While he engaged the two in conversation his bartender notified the police by telephone and Patrolmen R. H. Goodwin and E. H. Long hurried to the place in an automobile and placed the two under arrest. They gave the names of John McHugh and John Jones, and are being held in the city prison on suspicion.

LOOTERS ATTEMPT LIFE OF NIGHT WATCHMAN

The police are seeking clues that will lead to identifying the four men who last night attacked Henry M. Thorpe, night watchman of the Best Machine Company, firing several shots at him, after breaking into and attempting to loot the place. The men escaped and Thorpe, who was driven back by a fusillade of shots, attempted to follow them, was unharmed.

Thorpe made his rounds shortly after 10 o'clock. He saw a shadow as he passed the window of the stock room, and on entering, found two men behind the counter. One of the men threatened him with a revolver and he jumped out. They followed and were joined by two others. All four ran, after firing at him several times.

Entrance had been effected by the use of a skeleton key. Insulated wire was piled up in the center of the room, and preparation had been made to steal machinery and tools.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF STREET CAR HOLDUP

Fred Bohne was arrested at the foot of Broadway this morning. He was taken to San Jose this afternoon to face a charge of having held up and robbed the crew of a street car of the Garden City on the night of June 20 last. His arrest was brought about through the keen eyes of Inspectors of Police Shaffer, Turcotte and Gallagher, who recognized him from descriptions which had been sent out by the San Jose police a month ago.

Bohne maintained a sullen silence when lodged in the city prison, refusing to discuss the charge upon which he was taken into custody.

to stop it. Now comes Mr. Snively, first name unknown, and demands that the principal Chinese merchants and the heads of the tongs appear before him, and, having made the two old warriors shake hands, he gives them a bill to understand that in the future such sports as killing, gambling, and operating lotteries, being in gross violation of American law, will beget the certain and full penalties thereof, and that no favors will be shown now. Seems as though it might work, doesn't it, this little direct talk?

TIME FOR A PLAIN UNDERSTANDING.

It is high time the national Progressives, or what is left of them, should come to a determination as to the part they are to play in next year's campaign. The Republican party—the whole country—is entitled to something more definite than a jumble of conflicting statements, now looking one way, now another.

Progressivism has assumed for itself a super-moral basis. It has pretended to a greater frankness and a higher virtue than the old scheme of politics. Something is due under these pretensions. And it must be something better than a "policy" worked out through concealments, deceptions and behind-the-scenes bargaining.

If we were to adjudge the present attitude of the Progressive leaders by the old standards of politics—standards which they have publicly rejected and decried—we would, in the statements of Mr. Perkins and in the reticences of Mr. Roosevelt, discover motives entirely harmonious with the old scheme of things. It looks as if these leaders were laying the basis for a job of political bargaining, with the idea of salvaging from the wreckage of Bull Mooseism what may be gotten out of it on individual account. This suggestion, in view of the higher moralities so stoutly professed, would perhaps best be rejected. None the less, it is time that Mr. Perkins and Mr. Roosevelt should make clear their intentions.

The plain truth of the situation is that there is practically nothing left of the Bull Moose movement. Those who joined in it never ceased to be Republicans, and, practically speaking, all have now returned to their original allegiance. That anybody—anybody—may now use what is left of the movement as a basis for political bargaining, we do not believe. Effort on the part of Mr. Perkins or anybody else to hold up the Republican party under a threat of a Bull Moose campaign in 1916 will, we believe, fail under the weight of its own essential unworthiness.

There is no disposition on the part of Republicans, in the party organization or out of it, to penalize those who, from one motive or another, joined in the Progressive movement in 1912. True, it is felt that that movement, for all its moral pretensions, had an insufficient moral basis, that it was a movement founded essentially in personal pique and in wounded ambition. But nobody wishes to dwell upon this point. Let them come back without penalties—this is universal party sentiment. But it is one thing to come back in good spirit and in good faith, and quite another to attempt, in the process of coming back, to hold up the party with the idea of remodeling its principles and dictating its nominations.

CHILDREN AND SCHOOL SEATS.

The school board of New York City is divided into two factions on matters of policy. Briefly, the policy of each faction is as follows: In a group of twelve Bronx schools there are 36,000 children and only 25,000 seats, a congestion which caused about 20,000 school children to be educated on half time. To cope with the situation the board is planning to spend about $1,000,000. One faction is in favor of erecting two new school buildings which will provide reserved seats for about 4000 children, leaving only 12,000 on half time.

The other faction is in favor of spending $750,000, a quarter of a million less than available, for the addition of playgrounds, shops, swimming pools, gymnasiums, libraries and other educational opportunities to the present facilities in the existing schools, which would enable the operation of a double school plan and accommodate 46,000 pupils without erecting a single new building.

The illuminating feature of the second plan is that at least a faction of the New York City board of education has realized that the first essential of educational facilities is not straight-backed seats in a square class-room, and that there must be a reserved seat for every enrolled pupil. It discloses also that Oakland's ideas of equipping schools have found lodgment in the minds of two or three New York men and promise in time to be generally adopted. When this takes place New York's school children will be 500 per cent better off in the way of educational advantages.

The cost of providing proper police protection for the people and the property of the city has increased yearly since 1905. For the fiscal year of 1914-15 Oakland spent $324,000 on its police department. This represented a tax levy of 23 cents on the $100. But the size and the cost of the police department has not increased proportionately with the growth of the city in other respects. It has been not quite doubled in the last ten years, while the area of the city has increased 300 per cent and the population 325 per cent. In this article on the second title page today Mr. Faulkner says that while Oakland has the smallest police force of any city of equal size in the country, it has been better protected and more orderly than the average city. He says the city has got a full return for the money spent on the police. He says also that the people have not done well enough by their police department and that a greater expenditure would be justifiable.

When Eugene R. Putnam, United States inspector of buildings and supplies, alighted from Washington, dropped into the customs house at San Francisco the other day and told a whistling official who had tacked axioms on the wall that "Life is one thing after another" was an adornment entirely too sentimental, and that the government was not sentimental in the least, having as its only motto, "In God We Trust"—it is not quite certain that the gentleman spoke the truth. Judging by some of the men the government employs, it must be sentimental in the extreme and needs its trust in God to the utmost.

The Chamber of Commerce. The Tribune thinks, has done well to retain the services of Manager Caine. The value of such work as Mr. Caine has been doing here, like the value of all other forms of advertising and promotion, rests largely upon its continuity. Many things have been begun and some things have been achieved in direct consequence of Mr. Caine's activities, and it is gratifying to know that these activities are to be sustained.

A journal across the bay which deals in convict-cozening makes much ado over the fact that the hair of Abe Ruef is turning gray in San Quentin. At Ruef's age—and in consideration of his career—what can he expect of his hair? He is lucky to have any hair at all.

COLONEL IRISH IN REPLY TO MR. McCLATCHY.

Casa Rio, August 5.
To the Editor: In the evident excitement under which Mr. McClatchy labored when writing his letter of the 1st inst., he overlooked entirely the fact that the National Association of American Landowners, of which I am a member, has already spent $100,000 and has assessed the district United States. While it is true that only a small percentage of the owners of the flood lands of property assessed have returned payment, Mr. McClatchy makes a grave mistake in assuming that payment has been approved of the board, its methods or the incompetent engineer. We paid because the board intended to sell our property within thirty days, apparently without the equity of redemption. Not a single property owner knows what this tax is for, nor the benefit to him that is to follow its payment. Is it to be spent in constructing the Sutter basin bypass for the benefit of the American Company in reclaiming in one tract 60,000 acres in that basin? Is it to be spent in the weir and bypass that will transfer the American river floods across the Sacramento into the Yolo basin, for the benefit of the National Company, to protect its 90,000-acre reclamation of the American river basin, in which the floods of that river have found their natural reservoir?

Mr. McClatchy says that the owners of these enormous tracts "had the same right to reclaim as had Col. Irish to reclaim his, even though in their case as in his the work raised the flood plane and endangered other lands."

Can Mr. McClatchy be ignorant of the radical difference between our reclamations in the San Joaquin delta and those in controversy on the Sacramento?

Our reclamations are in small units, and around each we both widen and deepen existing waterways, and create them where they do not exist. In that way we have done our own standardizing without the advice or assistance of the reclamation board, and as a result we have provided room for the water to escape from our lands by levees, and the small effect on the flood plane is shown by the fact that our levees are destroyed only when the floods of the Sacramento river pour into the San Joaquin through Three-Mile Correction and Georgiana sloughs, and compel the latter river to carry the floods of both water sheds. If our plan had been followed the American river basin would have been reclaimed in 22 tracts, with a waterway 400 feet wide, or navigable depth between each tract.

I need not follow Mr. McClatchy's diffusion statement further. I regret that the expected usefulness of his board is impaired by its secretive methods and its stubborn refusal to disclose the purpose for which it is expending $350,000 of our money, and in this feeling I am supported by 99 per cent of the people of the district, who want to know what is done with their money.

PLEA FOR A NEW HOOK-AND-LADDER TRUCK.

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 4, 1915.
To the Editor: About thirty-six or thirty-eight years ago, when Oakland was a small burg with low buildings, the City Council, for better protection against fire, purchased a Hayes aerial hook and ladder truck, and that truck has done active and honorable service ever since, though in the meantime, presumably on account of unsafeness, the aerial ladder has been replaced by hand extension ladder.

With increase in population, skyscrapers and apartment houses have sprung up, and with the introduction of the motor, automobile fire apparatus has been rapidly replacing the horse-drawn, but the same old truck still continues to chase fire after fire in the same old way, wholly inadequate of the present needs and absolutely unsafe in every way.

Quoting from "Report to Civil Service Commission on Survey of Oakland Fire Department, May, 1912": "This is the main truck company of the city and covers all the downtown and business section. The equipment is out of date and should be replaced at the earliest possible date with a new motor-driven aerial truck," etc. For the past three years Chief Ball has made strenuous efforts and Chief Whitehead is now doing his utmost to secure a new motor-driven aerial truck, but the powers that have been apparently did not realize the necessity thereof, and from what I can learn the powers that now are are about in the same fix. Therefore, with the hope that your valuable paper will take the matter up and urge the necessity of this additional apparatus, I am taking the liberty of calling your attention to the very dangerous condition that exists.

In the first place, this piece of apparatus is so badly worn that it is liable to collapse at any time in responding to an alarm, and when most particularly needed; secondly, the ladders are in such a condition that it is a crime to ask a man to mount them; thirdly, the ladders are too short to reach the tops of many of the high buildings; and lastly, since motor-driven engines have been used in the department they have been delayed many times, until this slow piece of old junk has arrived.

It is only a few days ago that in Chicago hundreds of people lost their lives through neglect, and it is rank neglect to allow a condition such as exists in the heart of this city to continue, for the time is coming when one of our fire-truck apartment houses, and there are many of them, is going up in smoke, and when it does, unless adequate apparatus is on hand to take people from the upper floors, somebody is going to be burned to death. To say nothing of the firemen, who are liable to be killed at any time by collapsing ladders or truck.

Though not a member of the department, I have had the pleasure of meeting this ancient nonpareil and infernal piece of junk at many fires from the time of the burning of the Grand Central Hotel in 1890 to date, and I believe that in my recommendations to improve it I have treated it mildly, and if there is any doubt thereof I would suggest an investigation of the existing dangerous condition. Ask any fireman from the chief down, and you will find that I have not over-rated the condition.

A FUR STORY

COMES TO US FROM ACROSS THE WATERS.

Blue Fox Furs, White Ermine
With Its Coquettish Little Black Tail, Thick, Lovely
White Satin, Together With Society's Activities—Knitting—Go to Make Up a Wonderful Picture.

Free from fads, or frills, these selfsame pelts are here at Gassner's waiting for some distinctively-frocked belle to duplicate European Chic.

A letter just comes from Across the Water that describes a wonderfully fetching tailored suit of white, thick satin, caught over the bust with silver military "frogs," and worn with it were Blue fox furs as storn and muf. A great, luxurious bag of white ermine, dotted with the little black tails and mounted in cool silver, was hung over the arm by means of a silver chain, threaded occasionally with great jade beads.

Completing this very simple, but very elegant, tailored trottier suit, was a military cap, having a visor of patent leather, a crown of ermine, and a two-inch band of Blue fox out of which rose a military "brush" of spun glass, held by a gorgeous jade buckle. Later the big ermine bag was opened, disclosing a superbly printed lining in many gay colors, and its contents were—well, what do you guess?—quick—no, you can't guess, for you are thinking of this lovely use of furs! Well, the content of that bag of regal ermine skins was some plain, old-fashioned knitting—a sock for a soldier!

Any reader can duplicate this enticing costume, for we have all the furs described at moderate prices. All of these furs carry the justly famous Gassner guarantee, of course!

While "small furs" are attractive and needful the year round on the Pacific Coast, Fur Coats are more needed, especially if you motor much.

We think we never had Fur Coats so luxurious in appearance at such moderate prices as we have coming to us now.

Hudson Seal Coats with beaver trimming are probably the smartest novelty yet at hand, for the beaver bands give the quaint Victorian picturesqueness and flare the skirt of the coat into the fullness demanded by new silhouette. Yet if you do not use beaver as garniture, as Fitch, Fox, Ermine, Skunk, or any other fur you prefer, as we have every fur Madame La Mode pronounces correct for the coming season.

Not the least feature of the Gassner Fur Coats are the gorgeous silks and splendid brocades used as linings, for a coat thrown back must reveal its beauty inside as well as out.

Gassner Fur Coats are here to be tried on, so you are invited to take your turn in one or more of them.

If you have in mind any Fur Fancy, come in and talk it over—for we specialize in just such individual service as producing your Fur whimsies at little prices.

Influence of Nude in Films
Held Immoral

MRS. EARL ROGERS.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—"The girl of nine today, through the moving picture plays, knows as much of sex relations as the girl of eighteen did ten years ago."

"The nude in moving picture is immoral, because it is indecent."

"The nude in film plays is often equally immoral."

These are the most emphatic of the views of Mrs. Earl Rogers, who was interviewed last night at the Rogers home at San Francisco, Cal., by a representative of the Tribune.

"The young attend all the picture theaters and absorb their lessons, for good or evil, easily."

"The tremendous influence of the picture plays on the children of today is appalling. Nothing else can be compared to it, no other influence approaches it in importance."

"The nude in painting and statuary, if true art, is pure and ennobling. But the nude in the moving picture is immoral, because it is indecent."

VALUE OF POLICE DEPARTMENT PROTECTION AT MINIMUM COST

With Relatively the Smallest Police Force in Country, Oakland Has Been Better Protected and More Orderly Than the Average City; Where Twenty-Three Cents of Tax Levy Is Applied

This is the ninth of a series of articles telling what city officials have done with $30,000,000 during the last ten years.

NUMBER NINE
By FREDERICK FAULKNER

The police department is an institution of urban communities as firmly established as the office of mayor. The public regard and the public's reliance upon the organized police probably will never be lessened to any material degree. Standards of estimating the value of a police department may change, however. I believe it is undergoing a definite change at the present time.

A famous police chief has pronounced a theory regarding crime and police administration which I subscribe to heartily and unreservedly. It may be expressed somewhat in these terms:

"The methods and forms of punishing offenders are not vitally important. The essential thing is to make some punishment for every transgression of the laws absolutely certain."

The word "punishment" in this case implies accountability that may not be followed by a prescribed sentence of punishment. The theory here expressed is that if a man contemplating crime for gain is faced with the impossibility of "put over" anything and "get away with it," he will not make the attempt. He will avoid "working" in a city where effective police methods have wiped out the margin of profit and supplanted therefore the certainty that he will be arrested and made to render an accounting for his unlawful acts.

OBJECT TO BE SOUGHT.

If this view is correct the value of the police departments will in course of time be shown by the lowest number of arrests, instead of the highest. The lower the number of arrests the better protected and more orderly will be the city. Berkeley, our neighbor, is generally conceded to be the model city of the United States as regards police regulation. For the last fiscal year 299 arrests were made. With a population of 64,000, this was at the rate of 4.5 arrests for each 1000 of the population. Oakland with a population of 213,000 had 3011 arrests, a rate of 41.2 to the 1000. Allowing that each officer making an arrest has to leave his beat for one hour to give testimony, etc., Berkeley lost the services of an officer for 230 hours, or 36 working days. Oakland's policemen lost 3011 hours in the courts, or 1126 working days, or the whole time of three officers for one year and 31 days' time of a fourth officer.

Therefore, while Oakland has done far better than most cities of the country, smaller and larger than this city, in preventing crime and apprehending criminals, it has not done well enough. It has not reached the maximum of efficiency in police administration.

BIG INCREASE NECESSARY.

The reason for this is that the people have not done well enough in providing a police force to keep abreast with the progress of the city in other respects. During the last

'String on Heiress' Immense Estate Husband Unable to Get Income for Her

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Although Chicago's Barker, who recently was wedded to Howard Spaulding Jr., was possessed of an estate valued at approximately $50,000,000, her husband cannot collect one cent of the income, it became known today when a trust deed of the estate of the late John H. Barker, car manufacturer, was found in the office of the probate court of Cook county. The deed provides that the heiress shall receive $50,000 a year until she is 21 years old. Then she is to receive $150,000 a year until she is 25 years old. After that time she is to receive the entire income of the trust fund, except what is necessary to pay other annuities.

It also provides that payments to Mrs. Spaulding "are to be made directly to her by check or draft payable to her order, and shall not be made to any other person, or upon any written or verbal order, given by her, or upon any transfer or assignment made by her or created by operation of law."

Mrs. Spaulding is given the power to dispose of the estate by will.

WOMAN GIVES MORALISTS SCOLDING

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The mother who risks her life to produce a child does as great service for the state as the man who kills some other mother's son in defense of Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, who was charged with the murder of a child, the Kansas department of Child Hygiene, which was read before the National Conference of Race Betterment here today.

"Pseudo economists and moralists deplore women for their refusal to bear children," said the paper. "If we would be reformers and direct their energies in making conditions better for mothers to bring children into the world and to rear them to efficient manhood and womanhood, the woman would certainly be more likely to respond cheerfully."

"Given a reasonable economic security and a worthy husband, the right sort of women will bear children that will be a credit to themselves and to the country."

"Besides, the child has his right to intelligent consideration before he is born, even before he is conceived."

Infant mortality rates in civilized countries vary from one in four or five to one in eighteen or twenty, it was pointed out. Perhaps two thirds of these deaths are due to improper feeding and care," Dr. De Vilbiss asserted.

"Parenthood," she said, "ought to be the privilege of the fit. To permit parenthood to the defective and to those who will transmit serious diseases and defects to their children is worse than stupidity."

TWO BADLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Jitney Busses Collide on Broadway, Seriously Injuring Alameda Matrons.

Mrs. O. B. Smith, 524 Central avenue, Alameda, and Mrs. D. R. King, 1364 Burbank street, Alameda, sustained serious injury in an automobile accident last evening when two jitney busses crashed together at Fourth and Broadway. The women were removed to their homes and are under the care of physicians. Miss Eva Hardy, a Los Angeles school teacher, sustained minor hurt in the accident.

The jitneys were driven by John Choketly and Charles Kallenbach, both of Oakland. The police will investigate the cause of the accident and may withdraw the license of one of the drivers.

The injured women were taken to their homes by E. J. Hall, 1623 Brush street. Mrs. Smith sustained internal injuries and Mrs. King had several teeth knocked out and was cut about the face.

'BILLY' SUNDAY—BUFFOON DR. AKED HURLS CHARGE

"I do not know of any consideration in the world which would induce me to become a party to the buffoonery and blasphemy of a 'Billy Sunday' sermon."

This is but one of a score of witty and terse observations contained in the second statement of Rev. Charles F. Aked in which he explains why he resigned as an officer and member of the Committee of One Hundred, representing the affiliated Protestant Churches, and which was responsible for bringing the baseball evangelist to San Francisco. The statement was issued by Dr. Aked last evening, as Sunday was leaving the city in a rage, refusing to discuss the first statements of the resigned committee-man. Dr. Aked's statement follows:

I withdrew from the Committee of One Hundred quietly, without fuss or publicity.

I gave my reasons to the committee and supposed the matter was closed. I did not send to the secular press a copy of my letter. I do not know and cannot learn what member of the committee made my resignation public. But when the Chronicle representative, late on Wednesday night, showed me his note which contained fully one-half of my letter, and told me that he had wired East a "story" of 600 words, there was nothing for it but to put a complete account in the affairs into his hands. I gave him, without comment, my letter to Dr. Bell and Dr. Bell's letter to me.

I thought that my letter covered the story and that, unless they have, ever, this morning indicate that some amplification is demanded, and I am assured that it is in the public interest that a more detailed statement should be made.

NO REASON FOR AID.

It all comes to this. I do not know of any consideration in the world which would induce me to become a party to the buffoonery and blasphemy of a "Billy Sunday" mission. The justification of this language is to be found in the reports of the San Francisco press. It is plain that he cannot read them, and has not read reports of similar performances elsewhere. He cannot understand my feelings. I would rather be put upon the firing line than where in the neighborhood of "war" than plunge myself to a belief in the verbal inspiration of the daily papers. But unless the press men and women of this city are lying, unless they have entered into an agreement to lie unanimously and heartily, then Dr. Sunday stands condemned. If I had not withdrawn my report, I should feel that I share and deserve to share in the condemnation.

Cleopatra was a flat-nosed wench who seduced the Nile and the Nile in sunshine and climate—"let it be admitted that I have not secured from Dr. Sunday or from Bishop Hughes or from Dr. H. H. Bell a guarantee that Dr. Sunday did not say these words. But nobody has denied it—neither Dr. Sunday nor the person described by the newspapers as his "official press agent," nor Dr. Bell, nor anybody else. The Chronicle report stands.

I have for more than a year systematically accumulated from the secular press, and have read them, Dr. Sunday's speeches, and this quotation agrees with a vast number of others which I have before me at this moment. Unless it is alleged that the Chronicle is lying, unless this sentence, and did it so well that Dr. Sunday himself could not better imitate his own style, I am content to maintain that the good sense of the religious community upon the ground of such an utterance.

"SUGGESTIVE SERMONS"

Let us use plain and honest speech. I do not know whether Cleopatra ever sat naked in a boat and raised herself to be rowed up the River Nile. Assuming that Dr. Sunday's historical reading is wider than my own, or that that incident occurred, I am more deeply upon his memory than on mine—as it probably would do—then it is conceivable that there might be some reason for stating the fact, though the religious community would be justified in judging the relevancy of it to the gospel message. Yet I take my stand here: that nothing on God's earth can justify a sermon the hearing suggestive of the "official press agent's" gestiveness of the "official press agent's" sermon.

There can be only one object in stating the fact—if it is a fact—in that way. And the object is—dirt. Their boys and their object is to bring up their boys to think pure thoughts and speak pure words, and fathers who have daughters of their own at home may answer whether any purpose can be served by this sort of talk in a sermon, whether the preacher wished to serve any purpose beyond that of causing a broad grin among the delighted, perspiring boys, and a titter and a giggle among the girls.

Bishop Nichols, who invokes the divine blessing upon a "Billy Sunday" performance the following day; Bishop Hughes, who has lent to the Sunday mission the name of his name and his splendid ability; Dr. Bell, who is a whole-hearted admirer of Dr. Sunday, and the clergy who laugh at Dr. Sunday's smutty jokes and applaud his profane wit, and the great numbers of ministers who follow themselves what is consistent with their position as ministers of him who said, "Blessed are the pure in heart." For myself, I have no hesitation. I will not permit in the attempt to suppress indecency of action on the Barbary Coast and countenance indecency of speech at the Van Ness tabernacle.

And parents may very well ponder this quotation:

"Pilate was a lick-spittle, low-down, free-lunch hog-pouched, pliable, plastic, ward-heeling, whisky-soaked graft politician of this day."

WHERE ELSE TO LEARN.

"If their boys bring this language into the home, they—fathers and mothers—will understand that the youngsters have not only to a prize fight, nor to a saloon, nor to a house of infamous resort. Parents will understand that the boys have been led to a preacher who has let the name of an American college is a doctor of divinity, and who is supported by the leading clergy of San Francisco. Nay, his friends are to be invited to invite Dr. Sunday could not, of course, be grounded in these utterances, because the meeting at which I voiced my objections was held many months ago, and my letter withdrawing from the committee was written nearly two weeks ago. I had before me at that time such evidence as this Princeton University refused to give Dr. Sunday, and gave the response, or his own statement, printed quotations from Dr. Sunday's "sermons" and made this statement. Every passage quoted is taken from the old

Fifty Homeless by Closing of Hotel Oddest Structure in City of New York

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Warning that the oldest hotel in New York will be closed on August 29, when more than 50 working girls are to be sent adrift from the ship Jacob A. Stander today, caused much unhappiness among the occupants of the floating hotel.

A notice posted on the bulletin board on the Stander's deck read that Arbuckle's Deep Sea Hotel Company has decided to retire from the hotel business and will serve no meals after August 29.

For years the Stander has been a home for girls employed in shops and stores at a cost to them varying from $2.50 to $3.50 a week. Many of them earned only $1 a week, and 14 of the girls are now unemployed.

The city fire department had ordered changes to be made in the Stander, and it was said that the company did not wish to go to the expense of making the changes. The old ship, built in 1867, was purchased by John Arbuckle in 1901 and for several years has been moored at a pier in the East river as a home for girls.

DIVORCE EFFORTS SUCCEEDED.

Success has finally attended the efforts of Mrs. Olive Depew to secure a divorce from William H. Depew after three years' contest in the superior courts of San Francisco and Oakland. Mrs. Depew was awarded an interlocutory decree by Judge Burroughs upon the grounds of cruelty. Previous efforts made by Mrs. Depew failed to substantiate the charges.

Miss Daisy Polk, San Francisco, has written the above letter, was secretary of the new American Relief Committee of London, organized by the American women, and built the even more important organization for French hospital relief.

Miss Polk was arrested, three times, once in Germany and twice in France. Each time she was on an errand of mercy.

Miss Polk is recuperating at the apartment of her brother, W. H. Polk, in Sacramento street, and soon she is going to work again, raising funds for French relief.

Besides Miss Polk, there were Mrs. Herbert Hoover, formerly of Stanford University, head of the Relief Committee; Mrs. Power Hutchins, formerly Miss Elizabeth McNear of Oakland; and Mrs. Ben Lathrop of San Francisco.

Now Are the Days Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones If Bowels
Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her child than to keep it from early infancy to regular habits, not only as a preventive against much of the illness to which children are more or less subject, but also to insure their health in later life.

Normal activity of the bowels is the basis of sound health. This is especially true with children in hot weather. Do not neglect a tendency they may show to constipation, but promptly administer a gentle laxative, that will carry off the congested waste without shocking the system.

An excellent remedy for this purpose is the combination of a simple laxative herbs with popsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for only fifty cents a bottle. It does not contain opiates, narcotics, or harmful habit-forming drugs of any description, acts easily and naturally without griping or other discomfort and is positive in its effect.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been the standard remedy in countless homes for a quarter of a century and thousands of mothers testify to its virtues. If you have never used it, get a bottle from your druggist or write for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monroeville, Ill.

LATEST DODGE OF FREE LUNCH LEAGUE WILL NOT AFFECT COAST LEAGUE

President Leavitt Believes That Cry
Is for Better Baseball, Not Lower Admission

(By BILLY FEEZ)

"I don't think the Federal League will be able to succeed with ten percent baseball or that it will affect baseball conditions generally if they do. Here on the Coast the cry is continually for better baseball, and to answer the demand we must be in a position to pay the money."

This is the way Frank Leavitt, president of the Oakland club, looks at the latest advertising dodge of the Free Lunch League. Leavitt does not believe that a reduction in the Coast League scale of admission would materially increase the attendance.

"The only reason the Federal League is not getting the crowd is because it is not offering the fans better baseball than is to be found in the American and National league circuits. Failing to give them better baseball, the Federals must now resort to the slogan 'cheaper baseball.' It is a confession of inferiority."

The question of attendance, however, the Oakland manager, the not so much a matter of the price of admission, as it is a question of whether the club is winning or not. For the owner to make money, the club must be a winner, and since there can be only three winning ball clubs in a six club race, baseball is a mighty precarious undertaking. When the Philadelphia Athletics were at the height of their championship glory, Connie Mack's team drew the crowd. When the Athletics fell to pieces, and the Philadelphia Nationals began to win, the crowd dropped at once to the Phillies. That is the history of baseball. The fans will pay any price to see a winning ball club in their home town, and no one outside of the regulars will pay a nickel to see their home club in action if the boys aren't going well.

Leavitt's attention was called to the fact that most of the first-class theaters had found it necessary to cut down the price of admission, but the baseball boss deemed that this was largely the result of ruinous competition and the movie craze.

"Whether or not we could increase our attendance sufficiently by cutting down the bleacher price to ten cents to justify such a move, is a question that calls for protracted study, but frankly I should say that we would not draw two or three times as many people if we cut down the price of admission without cutting down the salaries of the ball players, and giving inferior baseball."

TWO MORE ON MCCREDIE

Recently, we had occasion to chide Walter McCredie for having passed up both Harry Helman and Justin Fitzgerald, two ball players who are now helping the Seals win the 1915 pennant. We might have made it a bit stronger and reminded the astute baseball tactician of the north that he also passed up Lee Magee and Jimmy Johnson, both of whom he drafted in 1909 from somewhere around Wisconsin and the Central Association. Magee was turned over to Seattle by McCredie and from there developed into one of the nation's stars.

Johnson, we don't think was ever brought out to Portland. McCredie having won him in the draft didn't figure him worth transportation to the coast and turned him back. Maybe, he brought Jimmy out but if he did he turned him loose right away.

VARDON LAYS DOWN SEVEN RULES

There are seven cardinal rules of golf, as set down by Harry Vardon, which recently appeared in a London sporting periodical:

1. Keep the head steady and the neck turned outward—then the body can only wind up when the arms go back.
2. Grip firmest with the thumbs and forefingers—they are not so well adapted as the other fingers to the purpose of taking a strong hold, and they are the most important of all for the purpose of the golf grip.
3. Let the club-head lead, the left wrist turning inward, the arms following the club-head, and the right hip screwing next.
4. Don't throw the arms forward as you start to come down as though you were moving grass, rather throw them back, and let them come round in their own way from that point.
5. Let the movement of the right shoulder be steady and rhythmic; it should have nothing in the nature of a sudden drop or jerk.
6. Don't be afraid to hit hard; if you are swinging correctly, hard hitting is not "pressing."
7. "Keep your head still until the club has struck the ball."

And, by the way, a third-sacker who was drafted by the Giants subsequently turned over to Rochester, has done a bullfight to the Reds and is now with St. Louis. Gilmore's circuit seems to be a sort of over-flow convenience for the majors.

TOO MANY PITCHERS AND OUTFIELDERS

Rowdy Elliott complains that youthful baseball talent is devoting itself too much to the pitching box and the outfield. All the kids in the country want to be Ty Cobbs and Christy Mathewsons. The fame of Walter Johnson and Alexander the Great, has set all the youthful baseball bugs into working up their pitching talent to the neglect of other departments.

The consequence is that we are long on pitchers and outfielders, and short—very short on infielders—particularly at second, short, third, and yet—at first base also.

The baseball world needs infielders if the class of the game is to be maintained. Dillon was mighty fortunate to pick up McMullen and Terry just when they were both needed, but the Oaks have been unable to get a satisfactory combination since 1912, despite the fact that the club has advertised broadcast for a keystone pair, and has tried out twenty applicants.

"I can't get a first class shortstop in this town," moaned Elliott today.

"Everyone that is any good is held under lock and key. The same thing is true of second basemen and third sackers."

JUNIOR EVENTS SCHEDULED AT EXPO. FOR TODAY

Although the Meet Lacks Drew,
Kelly and Olympic Stars,
Cracks Entered.

Pacific Coast, Middle West and Eastern athletes will begin their competition for A. A. U. honors this afternoon when at 1:30 the Junior Track and Field Championships will be staged. There are several night class men entered in the various events, and although the meet is not expected to be a very big one, it is a valuable one to the Pacific Coast. The meet is being held at the Exposition grounds, and the Pacific Coast records will be broken.

Local athletes have an excellent chance of capturing the greater majority of points in today's meet. The Olympic and Caledonian Clubs of San Francisco have entered teams composed of about sixteen men each, while the Los Angeles Athletic Club of Los Angeles, the Multnomah Club of Portland and figures to share largely in the number of points scored by the Pacific Coast athletes.

Some of the best sprinters in the country are entered in the 100 and 220-yard dash events. The Middle West will be represented by Dewey Knight, who has been credited with a 9.4-5 second time, and Ward, University of Chicago, who has always figured prominently in the Middle Western and Eastern meets. Bob McBride of the East Denver High school, who bested Howard Drew last Saturday, will lead the Olympic Club boys, and Noble, the South's representative, who has been guilty of running the 100 in 10 flat and the 220 in 21.5 seconds, will constitute the set who are figured on to put up a strong bid for places.

Gate of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the Multnomah Club of Portland may score for the Pacific Coast in the quarter-mile event, while Cramer, Olympic Club, will pile up points in the 800. Johnny Norton of the Stanford and Olympic Club stars; Walter Hummel of the Multnomah Club, and Medinah House, the world's champion high school hurdler, will represent the coast in both hurdle events and figure to carry off a good portion of the points.

Although they compare favorably with the track events, it is the field events where the Coast's main strength lies. Dan Mahoney and McCarthen of the Caledonian Club, who won the shot and discus at yesterday's meet, ought to repeat again in the hammer and 56-pound weight events, while the discus throw will find Ray Shagard and Emil Mueller, two national stars and Los Angeles club members, competing. Lindstrom, Caledonian Club, figures to make a strong bid for the javelin, while Fred Thomson, the former all-around champion of the world, and Ray Bagard, are especially strong with the Greco-Roman.

Frank Baker in the high jump, Frisbee in the pole vault, and Bill Stinson, the Stanford broad jumper, figure to all place in their respective events.

CADDY WAS WISE TO HIS JOB

A certain reputable gentleman relates the following incident with considerable indignation:

Not long ago when playing over a local course he sliced his tee shot, and, thinking that it had gone out of bounds, he carelessly drove another ball. When he had descended from the elevated teeing ground to the fairway, far below, his caddy informed him that his first ball was lying just within bounds. The player was greatly surprised, but played the ball which his caddy had indicated, but, hooking it badly, he was quite sure it had gone into a water hazard. After a short search his diligent caddy informed him that he had found the ball lying in the rough beyond the hazard.

After holding out the player became more and more mystified. As he thought of his uncanny good fortune and as his mind was possessed of a conviction, he hazarded this remark to the caddy:

"Boy, you dropped a ball for me back there, didn't you?"

"Sure did," replied the boy without hesitation.

"But," was the indignant exclamation, "what right have you to do a thing like that?"

The caddy regarded his employer in amazement, and then said, with some heat:

HIGH JUMP STAR MAY COMPETE UNDER PROTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—According to a decision handed down last night by the A. A. U. directors in this city, Alva Richards, high jump champion of the 1914 Olympic games and an entrant of the United States Athletic Club in the coming A. A. U. trials and meet to be held tomorrow on the Exposition grounds, will compete under protest. Richards has been prohibited by the Chicago Athletic Association, which body claims that he is not a bona-fide resident of the district in which he is competing and any points which he may score in the meet will be held in abeyance until the matter can be settled.

In addition to the Richards controversy the committee decided to require all jumping competitions to be held with the wind and it also gave favorable mention for the next A. A. U. championships to be held at Newark, New Jersey.

VALLEJO TO PLAY RUGBY. VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 6.—The high school has decided to stick to rugby football and orders have been placed for a number of new uniforms which are being used in outfitting the representatives of the red and white, who will meet the crack fifteen from the Lowell high school of San Francisco in the first game of the season.

Bill James Must Have a Rest

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—President Gaffney of the Boston National League club announced that Pitcher "Bill" James, member of the famous trio of pitchers who figured in the Braves' sensational finish last season, had been suspended at his own request in order that he might go to his home in Seattle, Wash., to rest his pitching arm. Experts who examined James' arm said that only by a complete rest can it be brought back into form.

Pfirman Shoots High Score at Alameda

In the opening day of the fourth annual tournament of the California Nevada Trap Shooters association at Alameda, H. Pfirman was high gun with a score of 198, equalling the work of well known professional, H. E. Pagon. G. F. Dodds and Tom Wilkes were tied for second place among the amateurs with 190 each. Over 2500 blue rocks were trapped before the final squad had fired their turn.

LUSCHER AND TAVAS TO MEET AT WEST OAKLAND CLUB

Pete Tavas, the West Oakland champion lightweight will meet Pete Tavas in the main event of the West Oakland club's show, it was announced today. Two special events, one between Jimmy Dwyer and Tom Fretts, and the other between Kid Williams and White Smith will feature in the featherweight class. Luschier and Tavas have met twice before in two winnable battles, the latter getting a close decision on both occasions. The victory of Luschier over Dwyer, a couple of weeks ago indicates that he is improving all the time, and may beat the West Oakland crack at the next show.

A special attraction between Freddie Graham, the West Oakland laughing wonder, and Honey Davis will feature while four more preliminaries will be on the card.

Other bouts are: Speedy Davis vs. Kid Sheridan, Jimmy Kelly vs. Danny Roach, Jack Dugan vs. Johnny Lucas and Larry Edwards vs. Young Thomas.

NOT SO BAD.

One answer to "What's the Matter With Baseball?" was given by the fans of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn recently when more than 125,000 paid admission to the ball parks of these cities in two days.

Increased Trading Follows Early Hour Irregularity

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Today's market gave a good account of itself eventually after considerable early irregularities. Manipulation of highly speculative issues was supplemented by increased buying of steel and representative railroad stocks.

NEW YORK STOCK TRANSACTIONS

The following quotations of prices of stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange are from E. P. Hutton & Co.'s private wire, members of the New York Stock Exchange, with offices at 590 California street and St. Francis hotel.
